The ESDRS requires ENO to provide in an ESDRS Annual Compliance Filing a data set including all distribution system and transmission system outages for the reporting year, System Average Interruption Frequency Index (“SAIFI”) and System Average Interruption Duration Index (“SAIDI”) calculations for ENO’s distribution and transmission systems, distribution system SAIFI and SAIDI for each of ENO’s distribution feeders, and identification of the top five percent (5%) of the lowest performing feeders based on annual SAIFI performance, along with the Company’s proposed plan, budget, and schedule to improve the lowest performing feeders.

Under the ESDRS, the minimum annual performance level for distribution system SAIFI, measured annually and with respect to the Company’s entire service territory, is 1.53. Distribution	1.44	163.20
Transmission	0.15	9.50

In further compliance with the ESDRS and Resolution R-23-73, the Company is attaching the following information:

1. Distribution and Transmission System Outage Data Sets,¹
2. Distribution System SAIFI and SAIDI Calculations for ENO's Distribution Feeders,² and
3. Identification and Plans for the Lowest 5% Performing Feeders.³
